EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Gross fund performance (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, management fees), net fund performance also takes into account the subscription fee. Further costs may be charged individually at customer level (e.g. custody fees, commissions and other charges). Example calculation (net method): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5 %, € 50 will be deducted from their investment as a one-off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may also be applied, which will further reduce the investor's return. The level of custody fees can be found in your bank's schedule of fees and services.

Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund.

The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation from the fund manager to track the index or achieve the same performance.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The second wave of the Coronavirus pandemic caused a rapid increase in new infections, particularly in Europe. Many governments reacted with contact restrictions, which varied from region to region and slowed down economic growth. There was no support from government and central bank aid programmes in the reporting period. Republicans and Democrats were unable to agree on a corresponding project shortly before the US presidential election. ECB President Christine Lagarde referred to a possible new assessment of the situation following the economic forecasts in December. While the major European stock markets ended the month more clearly in the red (the German equity index DAX lost more than 9 per cent), the US market, measured by the S&P 500 equity index and calculated in US dollars, was down 2.8 per cent. On the bond market, interest rates in the eurozone fell slightly, while they rose slightly in the USA. This development was particularly noticeable for long maturities. The difference in yield between 30-year US government bonds and German Bunds was recently more than 1.8 percentage points. In this environment, the Fund recorded a decline in value. With the exception of bonds, all asset classes posted losses, with equities making by far the largest negative contribution to performance. In equities, we sold our entire holdings in Danone and Royal Dutch Shell. However, we added new stocks from Dollar General, Facebook, Microsoft and Pepsico. The equity quota fell slightly compared to the previous month to 31.8%. In bonds, we completely disposed of holdings in issuers like Philipp Morris and Wintershall. Conversely, a new issue by Berkshire Hathaway was included. The bond quota and duration were reduced to 47.3% and 4.9 years respectively.
